Today the European caravan in Ceuta has begun to denounce the barbarity committed in the name of European democracy. In response to the recent border shootings committed against people crossing into Spanish territory, groups from all parts of Europe have come together for two days of mobilization against the so-called Death Fence. This morning the caravan has in a march through the city of Ceuta, heading towards the heavily militarized border zone.

The initiative against the Death Fence will be followed by an incursion into the immigrant detention center located a few kilometers from the Spanish - Moroccan border where border people are inhumanly detained for not having documents.

The first day of mobilization will finish with various assemblies and a Fiesta NoBorder entitled "Libertad de Movimiento. Juntos/as, sí se puede".

On Sunday, November 6th, a demonstration will cross the town of Ceuta demanding the immediate stop to immigrant deportations and the regularization of all immigrants.
