

Here is a summary of this article:

The minister of external affairs claims that no asylum seeker with documents of the UNHCR was deported. The Moroccan authorities are discussing with the office of the UNHCR about the organization of the asylum procedures, in order to fill some gaps and to make sure that the documents are authentic, he answered to a question of the socialist group in the Representative Chamber. He added that Morocco is respecting the dignity and the human rights, including the right to apply for asylum.

But on the other hand it would be necessary to secure the public order and to fight against international networks of immigration. Some immigrants would think they could establish themselves legally in Morocco by addressing the office of the UNHCR.

(No comments - but there are several reports telling the truth!)
